To George Fullerton, Esq, Physician, Pitt street, Sydney

SIR,—I take this public way of expressing my gratitude to you, knowing, through the Sydney Morning Herald it will be carried farther and spread wider than from a cannon's mouth, to show the world at large we have medical gentlemen here for abilities not to be surpassed anywhere.
The operations you have performed on myself now, yet through divine aid, in removing cataract and restoring me to the blessing of sight, so that I can now read and write, would redound credit on that celebrated physician Dr. Robert Liston, or the most eminent occulist of the age. Wellington can vaunt of his many victories; but how, in seeing thousands of his fellow-creatures slaughtered; but you may well boast of victories in successfully restoring many to sight, and others from other afflictions by your wonderful operations.
I also beg leave to tender my sincere acknowledgment to your friend, Alexander Cuthill Esq., who accompanied you, for the kindness and attention shown by him.
I trust you will both forgive me for this, as both your professional qualifications are long and too well known to require any encomium from me. In doing this I feel it a duty I owe the community at large, to make them acquainted with my wonderful cure, that the afflicted may get relief. Wishing you both every happiness,
I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your very humble and devoted servant,
ROBERT CUNNINGHAME.
April 26 6798

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—Please to insert in to-morrow's Herald the following report of the Concert held at Solomon's Temple, Clarence street, on Wednesday evening, the 21st instant, for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the shipwreck of the Sovereign steamer. Notwithstanding the weather being bad, it was most numerously and respectably attended; the gentlemen that combined the amature band had done all in their power to make the evening pass off comfortable and agreeable; after the song of "Mary Gore," by Mr. Thomson, Mr. Solomon stepped up on the stage and addressed the company:—"Ladies and gentlemen, I beg to claim your attention for a few minutes—when a gentleman made application to me if I would allow a concert to be held in my house for the benefit of the widows and orphans which were left from the wreck of the Sovereign, my reply to him was, that I would give the room, light up the entire house, use of the pianoforte, and one guinea for myself, which I now place in this tray, and also eight shillings donation from the pianoforte player—I shall now pass round the tray to those ladies." The tray passed round, and the poll or donations were as follow:—R. Dalore, Esq., handed in five guineas, Mr. Hudson, the leader of the city band, also gave a guinea in behalf of the city band, which was followed by many donations to the amount of £10 2s. The whole proceeds after deducting bills, tickets, and advertisements, &c., £13 2s. Great praise was given to Mr. Solomon for the style of the room, and his attention on the occasion. 1731

HORSE AUCTIONS.

THE undersigned, having been authorised to hold Sales by auction, begs to announce that he is ready to receive orders for the sale of every description of live stock, in town or out of it.
As his premises are in a central situation, near to all the most important places of business, it is his intention to have, if possible, a sale of horses every Saturday, at twelve o'clock.
Having resolved not to deal in horses on his own account, he will not compete with other bidders, and therefore the company will always have a fair chance of getting whatever bargains may be going.
JOHN STEWART, Veterinary Surgeon.
York-street, near the Barrack Gate. 6659

MR. A. CAMPBELL BROWN begs to intimate that he has commenced business as BROKER and AUCTIONEER, in those central and extensive premises, No. 451, George-street, opposite the Commercial Bank (which were recently occupied by Messrs. Fisher and Clarke), and respectfully solicits a share of the business of importers, settlers, and others.
Sydney, 26th April. 6761

TO SETTLERS AND OTHERS INTERESTED IN THE SALE OF COLONIAL PRODUCE.

MR. R. FAWCETT, Auctioneer and Commission Agent, George-street, Sydney, opposite the Barrack Gate, begs respectfully to inform settlers and others that he will sell by auction
WOOL, TALLOW, HIDES, STOCK, AND OTHER COLONIAL PRODUCE, AT A COMMISSION OF ONE PER CENT.
After the experience of the two past seasons, R. F need not point out the superiority of this mode of sale over that of sale by private contract, the result having fully borne out an advance of from 10 to 15 per cent.
Commodious Stores for the reception of colonial produce until the day of sale.
Cash advances made immediately on the receipt of produce, and supplies furnished, if required
481, George-street, September, 1846. 2503

TO THE INHABITANTS OF GOULBURN, BUNGONIA, GUNNING, YASS, AND THE SURROUNDING DISTRICTS.

DAVID DAVIS respectfully begs leave to inform his numerous acquaintances, friends, and the public in general, that he has commenced business in the Old Commercial Store, late the Post Office, and adjoining Mr. Mandelson's Hotel, with an entire new and well-selected stock of Linen, Drapery, Haberdashery, Hosiery, Groceries, Ironmongery, Paints, Oils, &c., and every article requisite for a Country Store, which he is determined to sell at the lowest remunerating profit.
D. D. begs also to acquaint the ladies that he has engaged from Sydney a first-rate milliner and dressmaker.
N.B.—Ladies own materials made up. 6739

JOHN S. BEACH, late of the establishment of Messrs. Pite and Preston, carried on in the names of Beach and Gleeson, respectfully informs the public that he will, on Saturday next, May 1st, commence business in the Drapery Trade (on his own account, unconnected with any other house), in one of Mr. F. Oatley's houses, No. 234, George-street, lately occupied by Mr. Joseph Taylor.
J. S. B., having purchased an entirely new Stock, feels well assured the fullest satisfaction will be given to purchasers. 6694

MRS. CHARLOTTE HAYLOCK begs to apprise the friends of her late husband, Mr. Edward Haylock, that she intends to continue the business of Poulterer and Cheesemonger, in Market-street, as usual. She further takes this opportunity of thanking the supporters of her late husband, and trusts that an adherence to the same style of conducting her business, and a steady determination to please her customers, may induce the public, as well as her old friends, to give her a share of their patronage. 6729

VALUABLE FARM FOR SALE.

TO BE SOLD by Private Contract, all that valuable Farm, most advantageously situated about half way between Liverpool and Campbelltown, being a grant from his late Excellency Governor Macquarie, to the present proprietor, in the year 1821, and is described in the said grant as follows:—
"All those two hundred acres of land, lying and situate in the district of Minto, bounded on the north-west side by Driver's farm, bearing west 25 degrees south 44 chains; on the south-west side by Cordeaux and Townson's farms, bearing south 28 degrees east 49 chains; on the south-east side by Underwood's farm, bearing east 25 degrees north 44 chains; and on the north-east side by Atkins's and Lilly's farms, bearing north 28 degrees west 49 chains."
The above farm, known as "Lachlan Valley" adjoins the parsonage near — Bloomfield's, Esq., on the Campbelltown Road; 170 acres of which are cleared and ready for the plough; the orchard, consisting of three acres, contains some excellent choice fruit trees, and the remainder is standing timber. There is a constant supply of water on the farm, and the whole, which is fenced in, is now in the occupation of three tenants.
The tenants will show the property, and all further information may be had on application to Mr. JOHN MOORE, at George Rouse's, Esq., South Creek near Windsor, (the owner); or at the office of Mr. LEWTHWAITE, Solicitor, Parramatta.
Parramatta, April 26 6741

BOROOWA ESTATE,
FOR SALE BY PRIVATE CONTRACT.

THIS Estate is bounded on the north and west, about three miles and a half, by that splendid River, Boroowa; on the east by Government land; and on the south by the Boroowa Plains.
The estate has been surveyed and divided into sixteen farms, and a township laid out of 141 acres, consisting of twelve sections, and subdivided into 110 allotments, with streets one chain wide.
The present improvements are on building leases, and will expire in March and September 1851.
The first farm is forty three acres, on the north-east corner, with river frontage, on which is erected a large and commodious inn, with every out-building requisite; well known for many years as Walton's Inn. There is also a general store and a neat verandah cottage, with a good garden securely fenced, formerly the residence of C. B. Harrison, Esq., and now let for the remainder of the lease to Mr. John Walton, at £150 per annum; ground rent during the lease, £24 15s. This is the main crossing place to the Murrumbidgee, Bland Plains, Lachlan, sundry stations, and only thirty miles from Yass.
Second Farm—Thirty acres, river frontage on which is erected a good substantial store building, and formerly let as an inn at £100 per annum; present rent £40; ground rent during the lease £30. There is also one small farm at £10, and one at £5 per annum. Thus, the present ground rent for 108 acres amounts to £69 15s. per annum; and at the expiration of the leases, in 1851, the rent will be £175 15s., leaving 1817 acres for further letting, or for a station, having large tracts of Government land on every side.
Terms—£500 may remain on mortgage at 8 per cent.
For further particulars apply to James Hassall, Esq. Freshfield, Camden; or to Mr. Stubbs, auctioneer, Sydney;—all letters post-paid. No offer can be entertained after the 15th May 1847. 6347

THE QUARTER'S REVENUE.

THE abstract of the revenue of the colony, exclusively of the district of Port Phillip, for the quarter ended the 31st ultimo, exhibits an apparent decrease in the public income, as compared with the corresponding quarter of the previous year, to a very serious amount. With the explanations, however, of which the principal items of decrease admit, it will be found that the revenue is really in a healthy and flourishing state. The amounts of the Total Income, and of the General and Crown Revenues, were respectively as follows:—

TOTAL INCOME.

First quarter of 1846		£60,960
	1847	53,240
Decrease, being 11 per cent.		£7,720

GENERAL REVENUE.

First quarter of 1846		£51,936
	1847	47,709
Decrease, being 8 per cent.		£4,227

CROWN REVENUES.

First quarter of 1846		£9,024
	1847	5,531
Decrease, being 38¾ per cent.		£3,493

The General Revenue is subdivided into three classes, which may be respectively called taxes, fees, and incidental receipts. The latter (incidental receipts) show a net decrease of £1621, or upwards of 60 per cent.; which is at once accounted for by the fact, that in the first quarter of last year there was a sale of allotments near the Circular Quay, which produced nearly £2000, while in the corresponding quarter of the present year there was no such sale. The fees show a slight increase, owing to the Court of Requests fees having been brought to account in the latter quarter and not in the former. The Supreme Court fees have fallen off £235, or more than a fourth.

The more important division of the General Revenue, that derived from "taxes, duties, rates, and imposts," requires a closer examination. The items showing a decrease are the following:—

Fees on shipping	£1,006
Tolls and Ferries	350
Assessment on Stock	4,375
Sundries	26
Gross Decrease	£5,757

Those showing an increase are—

Duties on Spirits imported	£ 344
Duties on Tobacco imported	164
Ad valorem on Imports	1,412
Duties on Colonial Spirits	1,012
Post Office	39
Sundries	74
Gross Increase	3,045
Net Decrease, being 5¾ per cent.	£2,712

Of the three items of decrease, tolls and ferries are the only one not admitting of ready explanation. The falling off in the shipping fees is attributable to the Acts of Council reducing the charges on the entry and clearance of coasting vessels, and abolishing wharfage altogether. The falling off in the assessment on stock is owing to the expiry and non-renewal of the Act by which it had been authorised. But for these Legislative alterations, the revenue from each of these two sources would no doubt have shown a considerable increase. But assuming even that they would have shown neither increase nor decrease, the total amount derived from taxes in the respective quarters would have been as follows:—

First Quarter, 1846	£47,325
1847	49,994
Net Increase, or more than 5½ per cent.	£2,669

This is the first quarter with which the corresponding one of the previous year stands upon a par in the revenue from duties on spirits, the reduction in the rates having commenced in November, 1845. The amount of duties paid on spirits imported was—

In the first quarter of 1846	£14,372
1847	14,716
Increase, being 2½ per cent.	£344

And the amount paid on spirits distilled in the colony was—

In the first quarter of 1846	£1,869
1847	2,881
Increase, being 54 per cent.	£1,012

The quantities of imported spirits upon which duty was paid were—

		Gallons.
In the first quarter of 1846		64,299
Ditto	1847	66,762
Increase, being nearly 4 per cent.		2,463

The quantities of colonial spirits upon which duty was paid were:—

		Gallons.
In the first quarter of 1846		10,681
Ditto	1847	16,466
Increase, being 54 per cent.		5,785

The increase in the revenue from ad valorem duty on goods imported has been very considerable. The revenue from this source was:—

In the first quarter of 1846		£6,837
Ditto	1847	8,249
Increase, being 20½ per cent.		1,412

The public have still great cause to complain of the very imperfect information afforded to them respecting the articles of import and export. The complaint, of course, does not apply to the AUDITOR-GENERAL, whose Quarterly and Yearly Abstracts are perhaps as full as they ought to be. But we are undoubtedly entitled to a periodical return, from some quarter, showing every article imported and every article exported, with the declared value of each.

The increase in the revenue from imported tobacco has been at the rate of about 1½ per cent.; and of that from the Post Office about 1 per cent.

CROWN REVENUES.

The items of the Territorial Revenue showing a decrease are the following:—

Quit-rents and redemptions of ditto	£1,813
Licenses to depasture	450
Clergy and school estates	999
Sundries	69
Gross Decrease	£3,331

Those showing an increase are—

Proceeds of Land Sales	£296
Rents of lands leased	21
Licenses to cut timber	7
Gross Increase	324
Net Increase, being 37½ per cent.	£3,007

In round numbers, the entire Land Revenue in the first quarter of last year was £8000, and in the first quarter of the present year £5000.

The Casual Revenues of the Crown offer no subject calling for remark, unless it be that the seizures by the Customs and the Inspector of Distilleries show a decrease on the quarter of £548, or 90½ per cent. Is not this to be ascribed to the reduction in the duties on spirits?

On the whole, our financial affairs are in a prosperous state.

VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

WE have papers from Launceston to the 14th instant, but they contain very little news.

The issue of the Circular of His EXCELLENCY, with a view to obtain through the Magistracy the opinions of the colonists on the transportation system, had naturally excited much attention and discussion. As to the evils of transportation there appeared but one opinion; but the want of labour, caused by its sudden discontinuance, seemed to form matter of apprehension. The following articles from the Launceston Examiner afford matter for reflection; and the 4th, 5th, 6th, and 7th, deeply enter into the merits of the question, as referring to New South Wales:—

NINE FALLACIES NOW CURRENT.

1. That the Circular of his Excellency places the colonists in an independent position to treat with the Home Government respecting an affair purely national, and which must be decided by the British Parliament.

2. That any representation from hence will induce the Home Government to alter the principles of the probation system.

3. That the unqualified condemnation of the assignment system by the House of Commons will be expunged at the request of the colonists, or that a system of servile apprenticeship will be introduced.

4. That upon the admission by settlers that transportation is necessary, the Secretary of State will attend to suggestions of detail proceeding from this island.

5. That furnished with such sanction, he will not consult his own convenience in sending or withholding convicts; that he will not arbitrarily dictate the conditions on which settlers may obtain the service of prisoners, and that he will not, in the event of dissatisfaction with some new scheme of management, justify his conduct by the admissions of the colonists themselves.

6. That this colony, in consenting to receive fresh importations of prisoners, after the evils of the system have been so fully exposed, would escape the contempt of the civilised world, or fail to be branded as mercenary, immoral, and debased, and unfit society for the humble and industrious, as well as the more wealthy emigrant.

7. That the labour of serfs is cheap, and that cheap labour is best for the servant, best for the shopkeeper, and best for the merchant—contrary to the experience of every young and flourishing settlement, and contrary to the past experience of this colony when labour was high and prosperity general.

8. That this colony would sustain a "shock" by the total cessation of transportation at the present moment—that the gradual diminution of the number of prisoners annually sent would prevent inconvenience rather than produce a series of "shocks," and that a scarcity of labour to a serious extent would be experienced if the importation of prisoners were henceforth to cease.

9. That contrary to the official and explicit declaration of the Secretary of State in Parliament, free institutions would be conferred if transportation were revived; the only reason assigned by Mr. Hawes for withholding legislation by representation being—that "there was a preponderance of a convict population, and that until it was removed the concession of a representative government could not be entertained."

The Commissioners of Hobart Town had waited on his Excellency Sir WILLIAM DENISON, who informed them that the Crown law officers concurred in opinion that their appointment under the Act of his predecessor was illegal.

KNOX, ASSIGNEE OF PAWLEY, v. MATTHEWS.

In this case there had been a reference to the Prothonotary, who had made his award in favour of the defendant, and on a previous day it had been sought to set aside this award upon the ground that it was contrary to evidence. This, however, failed, and it was now sought to set aside the order of reference, and to overturn the award altogether, upon the ground that the proceedings before the Prothonotary had been irregular, and that certain evidence of importance to the plaintiff was excluded. Very lengthened affidavits were filed both for and against the present application, and reference was also made to the whole of the proceedings.

Messrs. FOSTER and DARVALL supported the application, and Messrs. WINDEYER and FISHER opposed it.

The COURT was engaged up to the time of its rising in hearing the arguments of counsel in this case.

SALE OF WASTE LANDS ACT.

(From the Supplement to Friday's Government Gazette.)

PROCLAMATION.

By His Excellency Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, Knight Companion of the Royal Hanoverian Guelphic Order, Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief of the Territory of New South Wales and its Dependencies, and Vice-Admiral of the same, &c., &c.

WHEREAS by an Act passed by the Imperial Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland, in the ninth and tenth years of Her Majesty's reign, intituled, "An Act to amend an 'Act for regulating the sale of Waste Land belonging to the Crown in the Australian Colonies,' and to make further provision for the management thereof," it is amongst other things enacted that the said Act shall take effect, and have the force of law in each of the colonies of New South Wales, South Australia, and Western Australia, from and after a day to be specified by the Governor of each of such colonies, in some Proclamation to be issued by him for that purpose. Now, therefore, I, Sir Charles Augustus Fitz Roy, Knight Companion of the Royal Hanoverian Guelphic Order, Governor of New South Wales aforesaid, do, by this my Proclamation by me issued for that purpose, hereby specify and proclaim, the first day of May, now next ensuing, as the day from and after which the said Act shall take effect and have the force of law within the Colony of New South Wales and its Dependencies.

Given under my hand and seal at Government House, Parramatta, this twenty-second day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-seven, and in the tenth year of Her Majesty's reign.

CHARLES A. FITZ ROY.

GOD SAVE THE QUEEN!

ANNO NONO ET DECIMO VICTORIÆ REGINÆ. Cap. CIV.

An Act to amend an Act for regulating the sale of Waste Land belonging to the Crown in the Australian Colonies, and to make further provision for the Management thereof. [28th August, 1846.]

Whereas it is expedient to make further regulations respecting the occupation of the waste lands belonging to the Crown in the colonies of New South Wales, South Australia, and Western Australia, and for that purpose to repeal so much of an Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the fifth and sixth year of her Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for regulating the sale of Waste Lands belonging to the Crown in the Australian colonies," as would prevent such regulations from taking effect: Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords spiritual and temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, That it shall and may be lawful for her Majesty to demise for any term of years not exceeding fourteen, to any person or persons, any waste lands of the Crown in the colonies of New South Wales, South Australia, and Western Australia, or to grant to any person or persons a license for the occupation for any term of years not exceeding fourteen, of any waste lands, and to reserve upon such demise or license any such rent or pecuniary or other service, and to insert therein such conditions and clauses of forfeiture, as shall in manner hereinafter mentioned be prescribed and authorised, anything in the said recited Act to the contrary in anywise notwithstanding: provided always, that every such demise or license shall be made or granted subject to the rules and regulations hereinafter provided for.

II. And be it enacted, that the rent or pecuniary service so reserved on any such demise or license as aforesaid shall be applicable to such and the same purposes only, and shall be applied in such and the same manner, as the sums produced by the sale of lands effected under the authority and in pursuance of the said recited Act.

III. And whereas it may be necessary that effectual provision should be made for protecting such waste lands as aforesaid from being occupied without authority, and also for dispossessing any person in the occupation of any such waste lands as aforesaid, in case of the forfeiture of any such demise or license, or in case of the breach or non-performance of the conditions thereof, or in case of the holding over by any such persons or person after the expiration of any such demise or license, or after the end of the term for which the same may have been granted or made; be it enacted, that on information in writing for that purpose preferred by the Governor for the time being of any such colony as aforesaid, or by any person authorised by any such Governor on that behalf, to any Justice of the Peace acting in and for any of the colonies as aforesaid, or in any and for any county or other district thereof, setting forth that any person or persons is or are in the unlawful occupation of any of the waste lands of the Crown in any such colony, or is or are in the occupation of any such lands in virtue or under colour of any such demise or license as aforesaid, although such demise or license had been forfeited, or although the conditions thereof had been broken or unfulfilled, or although such demise or license had expired, or although the term for which the same had been granted or made had come to an end, it shall be the duty of such Justice to issue his summons for the appearance before any two Justices of the Peace, at a place and a time therein to be specified, of the person or persons against whom any such complaint shall be so made, and at the time and place so to be specified such two Justices (on the appearance of the person or persons charged, or on due proof of the service on him, her, or them, or at his, her, or their usual place of abode, of any such summons,) shall proceed to hear and inquire of the truth of the matter and things which may be alleged in any such information, and on being satisfied of the truth thereof, either by the admission of the person or persons charged, or on other good and sufficient evidence, the said Justices shall issue under their hand a warrant addressed to the Sheriff or Deputy Sheriff, or Commissioner, or other officer of the colony or district acting for or on behalf of Her Majesty, commanding and requiring him forthwith to dispossess and remove any such person or persons from any such waste lands of the Crown as aforesaid, and to take possession of the same for and on behalf of Her Majesty; and it shall be the duty of any such Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff, Commissioner, or other such officer as aforesaid, to carry such warrant forth with into execution, according to the tenor and exigency thereof: provided always, that nothing hereinbefore contained shall extend to any person having occupied waste lands within the boundary of location without interruption for the space of twenty years next before the passing of this Act.

IV. And be it enacted, that from and after the day when this Act shall come into effect in the manner hereinafter mentioned, any person, unless claiming under a sale or demise from her Majesty, or from some person acting in the name and on behalf of her Majesty, who shall be found occupying any waste lands of the Crown in any of the colonies aforesaid, either by residing or by erecting any hut or building thereon, or by clearing, enclosing, or cultivating any part thereof, or who shall depasture any cattle thereon, and who shall not previously have obtained a license from the said Governor for the occupation of such lands, or who shall occupy or depasture as aforesaid after such license shall have been determined by forfeiture or otherwise, shall be liable on conviction thereof to the penalties following; that is to say, for the first offence a sum not exceeding ten pounds, for the second offence a sum not exceeding twenty pounds, nor less than ten pounds, and for the third or any subsequent offence a sum not exceeding fifty pounds nor less than twenty pounds: provided always, that no information shall be laid or brought for any second or subsequent offence until the expiration of fourteen clear days from the date of the previous conviction.

V. And be it enacted, that the penalties hereinbefore imposed shall be recovered in a summary way before any one or more Justice or Justices of the Peace, upon the information or complaint on oath of the Governor for the time being of such colony as aforesaid, or of any person authorised by any such Governor on that behalf.

VI. And whereas it may be expedient that various Rules and Regulations should be made respecting the more effectually making demises or licenses for the term aforesaid of any such waste lands as aforesaid, and respecting the reservation on such demises or licenses of any such rents or other pecuniary services, and respecting the insertion therein of such conditions and clauses of forfeiture as aforesaid, and respecting the division of the said colonies into districts, within which alone such demises or licenses may be made to take effect, and respecting the renewal of any such demises or licenses, and respecting the conflicting claims of different persons to obtain any such demise or license, and respecting any right of preemption which it may be proper to give to the holders of any such demise or license, and respecting the forfeiture of any such demises or licenses on the conviction of any holders thereof of certain offences in any such colony, and respecting any other matters and things which may be requisite, either for carrying into more complete effect the occupation in manner aforesaid of such waste lands as aforesaid, or for preventing the abuses incident thereto; be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, by any Order or Orders in Council, to make and establish all such Rules and Regulations as to Her Majesty shall seem meet for the purposes aforesaid, or for any of them, and any such Rules and Regulations again to repeal, renew, alter, and amend and that all such Orders in Council shall have the force and effect of law in the colonies aforesaid: Provided always, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to authorise the sale of any waste lands in the said colonies otherwise than in conformity with the provisions of the said Act, except to persons who shall be in actual occupation thereof under such demise or license as aforesaid; or to authorise the sale of any such land for a lower price than the minimum price at that time established therein by the authority of the said recited Act: Provided also, that all such orders in Council shall be laid before Parliament within one month from the day of the date thereof respectively, if Parliament shall then be in session, or if not, then within one month next after the commencement of the then next ensuing session of Parliament, and that no such order, repealing, renewing, altering, or amending any such former order, shall be of any force or effect till the lapse of six months next after such repealing, renewing, altering, or amending order shall have been so laid before Parliament; and that all such orders in Council shall be published forthwith in the London Gazette.

VII. And for the protection of persons acting in execution of this Act: Be it enacted, that all actions or other proceedings for any thing done under this Act shall be commenced within six calendar months after the matter complained of was committed, and not otherwise; and notice in writing of such action, and the cause thereof, shall be given to the defendant one calendar month at least before the commencement of the action; and in every such action the defendant may plead the general issue, and give this Act and the special matter in evidence, at any trial to be had thereupon; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action was brought, or if a sufficient sum of money shall have been paid into Court after such action brought, by or on behalf of the defendant, together with costs incurred up to that time; and if a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff become nonsuited, or discontinue such action after issue joined, or if, upon demurrer or otherwise, judgment shall be given against the plaintiff, the defendant shall recover his full costs as between attorney and client and have the like remedy for the same as any defendant hath by law in other cases; and although a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Judge before whom the trial shall be shall certify his approbation of the action, and of the verdict obtained thereupon.

VIII. And be it enacted, That no order, judgment, or other proceeding made touching or concerning the matters aforesaid, or touching and concerning the conviction of any offender or offenders against this Act, shall be quashed or vacated for want of form only, or be removed or removable by certiorari, or any writ or process whatsoever, into any superior Court of Jurisdiction in any such colony.

IX. And be it enacted, That the word "Governor," as employed in this Act, is intended to describe the officer for the time being administering the Government of any of the colonies aforesaid; and the words "Waste Lands of the Crown," as employed in this Act, are intended to describe any lands in the said colonies whether within or without the limits allotted to settlers for location, and which now are or hereafter shall be vested in Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, and which have not been already granted or lawfully contracted to be granted by Her Majesty, her heirs and successors, to any other person or persons in fee simple, and which have not been dedicated or set apart for some public use.

X. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for Her Majesty, by any such Order in Council as aforesaid, to delegate to the Governor of any of the colonies aforesaid (on such conditions as Her Majesty shall see fit to impose) all or any of the powers hereby vested in Her Majesty, save only so far as respects the powers so to be exercised by Her Majesty as aforesaid by and with the advice of Her Privy Council.

XI. And be it enacted, That from and after the passing of this Act, the said recited Act shall not apply to land situate in the colony of New Zealand: Provided nevertheless, that nothing herein contained shall extend to invalidate any act done in the said colony, in pursuance of the said recited Act before or within one month after the passing of this Act shall have been made known by Proclamation by the Governor of the said colony to the inhabitants thereof.

XII. And be it enacted, that the said recited Act, so far as it is repugnant to this present Act, or would prevent the execution thereof, shall be and the same is hereby repealed.

XIII. And be it enacted, that this Act shall take effect and have the force of law in each of the said colonies of New South Wales, Southern Australia, and Western Australia, from and after a day to be specified by the Governor of each of such colonies in some proclamation to be issued by him for that purpose.

NEW INSOLVENT.—The following estate was sequestrated yesterday:—Michael Cunningham, of Pyrmont, Sydney, labourer. Edward Knox, Official Assignee. The insolvent having sequestrated as a pauper, his schedule was not returned to the Insolvency Office before the latter was closed.

THE LICENSING MEETING.—The Licensing Magistrates will assemble at noon this day, at the Police Office, for the consideration of applications for publicans' general licenses. Several applications are filed for the transfer of licenses, which could be considered should a sufficient number of magistrates be present.

THE SCOTCH KIRK.—At a pro re nata meeting of the Maitland Presbytery, held in St. Andrew's Church, Singleton, on the 13th instant, a call numerously signed was presented to the Rev. James Smith White, of Maitland, to become the pastor of this charge, vacant by the translation of the Rev. Irving Hetherington to Melbourne, which Mr. White accepted. The Presbytery therefore sustained the call, and appointed Sunday, the 9th of May, for his ordination, on which occasion the Rev. Messrs. Blain and Ross will officiate.—Maitland Mercury.

THE INSPECTOR OF NUISANCES. — Mr. D. Bury, residing in the southern part of the City, appeared before the Police Court yesterday forenoon, on a summons, for keeping swine within the limits prescribed by the Police Act. Mr. Nichols, who conducted the prosecution, called the Inspector, who proved that swine were running about in Parramatta-street, within the City; but upon cross-examination by Mr. Little, who appeared for the defendant, the Inspector swore that he did not know the defendant, and he would not swear that the swine were the defendant's property, or that the premises were defendant's. The case was dismissed. There was a second case against the same defendant, which was withdrawn. The above is the first case brought forward by Mr. Stubbs.

A MAD BULLOCK.—Between five and six o'clock on Sunday evening, a fat bullock broke out of one of the yards attached to some of the slaughterhouses in Sussex-street, made his way along Goulburn-street, till he arrived at George-street, where he attacked several individuals, all of whom escaped without injury, except two infants and a constable named Cannon. It appears the infuriated animal, while rushing at one of the infants, was turned by a constable named Gurney, when he made for another infant, on which he trod, and coming in contact with another constable named Cannon, got him on his horns and threw him on the ground; Cannon lying quiet, the beast made from him towards the Domain, where, in consequence of the darkness of the evening, he remained till daylight yesterday morning, when about a dozen of the police commenced a hunt after him, and after a fine chase from the Statue to the Fig-tree, constable Egan lodged one shot in him behind the shoulder and another in the forehead, which brought him to the ground. As no owner appeared to claim the carcass it was forwarded to the Benevolent Asylum.

COMMITTALS.—James Flynn, at one time a constable in the Sydney Police, was yesterday committed to take his trial for receiving a watch which had been stolen from Felix Macbride, another discharged constable. The prisoner was allowed the usual bail of £80, with sureties in £40 each. Ann Clark for drunkenness and street walking, was sent to gaol for one month; and Anne Wakely, for a similar offence, was sent for two months to the same place.

GEELONG SALT.—We have been favoured with a copy of the analysis of a specimen of salt from the lakes westward of Geelong. The analyst was Mr. Thomas Anderson, of Edinburgh, the pupil and friend of the greatest chemist of the day, Liebig. Mr. Anderson certifies that "the Geelong salt is purer than any of the kinds of which an analysis is given in Ure's Dictionary." The following is its composition:—

Chloride of Sodium (common salt)	99·654
Sulphate of Soda	·104
Chloride of Magnesium	·052
Insoluble residue	·190
Lime	a trace
	100·000

—Geelong Advertiser.

Police Court—Monday.—The Magistrates on the roster were Major H. Smyth, and T. W. Smart, Esq., both of whom took their seats on the Bench before ten o'clock. The Court was opened before Mr. Flood, with a list of twenty drunkards, two rogues and vagabonds six summons cases, and thirteen on the general list. The magistrates who took their seats on the Bench were Messrs. Flood, Smart, Smyth, Thurlow, Windeyer, and Holden. The Court was adjourned at a quarter-past one.

Price of General Herds of Cattle.—Mr. Stubbs, City Auctioneer, sold 1062 head of cattle yesterday, with station given in, at £1 6s. 4d. per head.

The Coal Monopoly.—Recent events in our own neighbourhood ought to satisfy the public and the government that it is full time that the partial monopoly enjoyed by the Australian Agricultural Company, in respect to the raising of coal should be put an end to. While the objection to the restriction was simply one of principle, no urgent necessity was felt for seriously taking the matter up; but the monopoly during the last twelve months has assumed a different character: it has become practically operative, and now stands between the community and a plentiful supply of coal at a cheap rate. The Government, acting upon the verdict recently obtained against Mr. Brown for raising coal from land near Four-mile Creek (the grant of which has been issued since the Company obtained their exclusive privilege), have ejected Mr. Brown, and re-entered upon the land. Mr. Brown has, of course, been obliged to abandon the pits which he had opened, and which he has for some time past been working with profit to himself, and with very considerable advantage to the neighbourhood and to the general community. Since he commenced raising coal at Four-mile Creek, the price in this vicinity has been reduced about one-third, and the article has in consequence come into much more general use. The steamers trading to Morpeth have also been able to obtain their fuel at a lower rate; and the inhabitants of Sydney and elsewhere have shared in the benefit resulting from the increased supply of coal, because the competition thus created has led to a reduction in the price. These advantages the Government appear to have felt themselves bound to deprive the public of, in order that the Australian Agricultural Company may preserve intact the exclusive privilege which was most unwisely granted to them by Earl Bathurst. We are not disposed to censure the Government for fulfilling in good faith the bargain then made. Unjust and impolitic in principle as that contract was, the Company have complied with the conditions required of them, and are in equity entitled to the advantages for which they have paid, or to a fair equivalent for them. But the Government cannot fail to perceive that the partial monopoly given to the Company is beginning to act most injuriously on the interests of the colony. The case of Brown is a convincing illustration of this. Here is an individual who can, with a profit to himself, supply coals at a less price than the Company. Others could do so too, but that the reservations in their grants prevent them from risking the chance of being dragged into the Supreme Court as trespassers upon their own property. All who have coal under their land are not endowed with the same nerve and enterprise which have fallen to the lot of Mr. Brown; he seems to have compared the cost of an action at law with the profits he could make from raising coal, while the action was pending, and having found a balance in favour of the latter, proceeded with his operations, and left the government to its remedy. After this practical lesson of the mischievous effects resulting from the improvident bargain made with the Company, the Government will show a most wanton disregard of the interests of the colony if it do not take immediate measures for extinguishing the monopoly. The amount which the colonists now lose in one year from its continuance, would be sufficient to buy up the Company's privilege for the remainder of their term. And in the progressive state of the colony each year must witness a material increase in the loss sustained from a restricted supply of coal. The extension amongst us of steam communication, the growth of manufactures, the formation and working of railways—in fact, our advancement in almost every point of view—will be most sensibly influenced by the supply and price of fuel; and it is therefore an object of national importance that every restriction which in any way interferes with the raising of coal should be at once abolished. All young communities have sufficient natural difficulties to overcome in their progress, and cannot afford to waste any portion of their energy in contending with those of artificial creation, more especially where they are so directly opposed to common sense and justice as this monopoly of coal is. During the last session of the Legislative Council Mr. Grant brought forward a motion for the appointment of a committee to consider how the Company's privilege could best be brought to a close. The Colonial Secretary met him with the "previous question," on account of the late period of the session. Messrs. Windeyer and Lowe deprecated the interference of the Council in the way proposed by Mr. Grant, on the ground that the agreement between the home government and the Company being illegal, was not binding. The result was that the question was cushioned. This session we hope the question will be taken up at an earlier period, and by some one endowed with more vigour and perseverance than Mr. Grant. The duty belongs properly to the government. They created the evil, and the colonists have a right to expect from them some measure for its remedy. Should they, however, evince no intention of taking the matter up, we trust that some of the representative members will lose no time in bringing it under the notice of the Council. The legal objection which has been raised to buying up the Company's privilege for the remainder of the term of their charter we regard as of no weight. Legal or illegal, the monopoly is effective. Mr. Robinson, in the discussion which took place last session, very sensibly observed that "the great question was how the monopoly was to be got rid of, as it was most important for the great work of improvement that coal should be cheap. Whether it was a legal or an illegal monopoly, its effect was to prevent parties from working coal mines; and he thought it better to dispose of it by giving a reasonable compensation to the Company." Most people will think so too; and that the sooner this step is taken the better.—Maitland Mercury.

The Murderers of Mr. Beveridge.—Thursday's overland mail from Sydney brought to Melbourne the necessary executive order for the execution of the unhappy aboriginal criminals, Bobby and Ptolemy, convicted of the wilful murder of the late lamented Andrew Beveridge, of the Murray. The sentence of the law will be carried into effect at eight o'clock on the morning of the 30th instant (Friday week). Singular to say the fatal intelligence did not reach the sheriff's department until the day following the arrival of the overland mail, and Mr. Wintle, governor of the gaol, accompanied by Mr. Assistant Protector Thomas, immediately on receiving the awful document, proceeded to the condemned cells and read their doom to the culprits. The moment Mr. Thomas communicated its contents to them, they appeared to be perfectly sensible of the consequences, and both of them burst into tears. We understand that the reason of the delay occasioned in the ratification of the sentence of the court, was owing to some exertions being made at head quarters to procure a mitigation; but the Executive, from the circumstances of the case, and the necessity of making a sad example, saw no grounds for the exercise of the prerogative of mercy. It is only to be hoped that the fate of their unhappy companions may infuse a wholesome terror into the minds of the Murray blacks, and deter them from the commission of further transgressions. A gentleman just returned to town from the Murray, informs us that the tribe of the murderers are fully sensible of the approaching end of their countrymen, and are already muttering deep threats of revenge, to be carried into effect, as they say, during the approaching winter, when the floods and other physical causes shall afford them more than ordinary facility for indulging in depredations. —Port Phillip Patriot.

As it is seldom that good pictures come to the hammer, we have been requested to remind the public that Mr. W. G. Moore will sell, this day, at Mr. Aspinall's, a few oil paintings by celebrated masters.—Communicated.

Wauchope.—This beautiful estate and extensive property, distant only about 16 miles from Port Macquarie, consisting altogether of about 3500 acres, with all the splendid improvements thereon, consisting of well finished residence, offices, well stocked garden, &c., will be sold by auction, by Mr. Salamon, at his rooms, at 12 o'clock, this day. Persons having capital to invest will find this a most favourable opportunity, and are therefore invited to attend the sale.—Communicated.

We are requested by Mr. Stubbs to remind the working classes residing in and near Parramatta, of the sale which will take place on the ground next to Newlands house, to-morrow, the 28th instant, near Church-street and the Bridge, Parramatta.—Communicated.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

LICENSING DAY.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

Gentlemen,—Have not the Police the power of entering into a publican's house at any hour, if they are of opinion that such publican is committing a breach of the Licensing Act, either by selling after hours during the week, or the prohibited hours on Sundays, Good Fridays, and Christmas-days?

Perhaps some of the worthy police will enlighten the public as to the amount of perquisites they receive for silence with respect to the aforesaid breaches, which I can prove are committed, and which I feel assured would not be tolerated for nothing.

I am, Gentlemen,

A SIX YEARS' SUBSCRIBER.

PARRAMATTA.

Licensing Meeting.

Pursuant to the adjournment of Tuesday last, the magistrates again met on Saturday. The members of the bench present were Gilbert Eliott, Esq., P.M., Dr. Anderson, Dr Forster, H. Watson Parker, M.C., G. Banks Suttor, A. L. M'Dougall, Nelson S. Lawson, and J. B. Bettington, Esqrs., J.P.'s.

The following applications, postponed from the previous meeting, were allowed:—

Publicans' General Licenses.—Mary Lakeman, White Horse Inn, Macquarie-street, Parramatta; Jane Watsford, the Spotted Dog, George-street, Parramatta; Charles Jackson, the Broken-back Bridge, Church-street, Parramatta; William Best, the Kangaroo and Emu Inn, Windsor Road; and John Booth, for a house situate on the Windsor Road.

Wine and Beer License.—William Dunks, the Old Half-way House, Liverpool Road.

Refusals of Licenses.—An application made by Edward Griffiths, for a wine and beer license for a house situated near the Race-course, in Church street, was refused on account of the premises being in a very dilapidated state of repair. An application made by Robert Pettit for a wine and beer license for a house on the Sydney Road, known as the Half-way House, and formerly occupied by James Kerwin, was refused on the following grounds:—It appeared that at the late Quarter Sessions a man was indicted for stealing from a neighbouring house a pair of trousers, and which were sold by him to Pettit's wife for about the twentieth part of their value, and that subsequently when the robbery was detected Mrs. Pettit burnt the trousers. The statement made by Mrs. P. in exculpation was, that the article in question was offered to her for sale by the thief, and that on her declining to buy, the man subsequently convicted of the theft borrowed sixpence from her, and left the trousers at her house, and that on her husband, who was at the time absent, returning home, and her telling him of what had occurred, he fell into a violent rage, and she also getting into a passion, threw the trousers into the fire, and they were thus destroyed. The Bench, however, considered that the degree of suspicion attached to the proceeding authorised the withholding of the license sought for.

In an application made for a publican's general license by Thomas Blake, for his house in Church-street, Parramatta, known as the Baker's Arms, a somewhat lengthy argument ensued.

Mr. Nichols appeared on behalf of the applicant, Mr. Blake, who, from what transpired, had had the consideration of his license at the previous meeting postponed, in consequence of a statement made by an extensive storekeeper (Mr. Galloway) of this town, to the effect that Blake had kept a squatter of the Murrumbidgee, named Thorne, whose agent Galloway was, while on a late sojourn of two months in Parramatta, during that time continually drunk; and that the bill run up by the said Thorne during that time at Blake's was of a very doubtful character. Further, Blake was, in the statement made by Galloway to the Bench, charged with getting drunk with Thorne, and while in such state of intoxication driving about the town.

Mr. Nichols was at a loss to know what course the bench would pursue in the present case, perhaps the best would be for Galloway to be called to substantiate what he had written. Blake had been a licensed publican for many years, and had never been punished. If his accuser set himself up as a censor and the conservator of the morals of the publicans of the town, the law gave him, under the provisions of the Licensing Act, a wide field for the display of his abilities, and if he shrunk from appearing as a common informer, he could privately tell the Chief Constable, who doubtless would not fail to prosecute Galloway; being no relative of Mr. Thorne, his motives could only be supposed to originate in the feeling that Mr. Thorne, whose agent he was, had perhaps a "ledger account" with him. Mr. Blake's claim against Thorne was only about £31, which extended over a period of eight weeks, and during which time he (Thorne) had treated an extensive acquaintanceship in the town. It had been held by the Sydney magistrates that licensing meetings, not being proceedings where the justices sat judicially, oaths could not be administered so as to test the truth of allegations made against applicants, and therefore the only mode open for a publican to vindicate his character from cowardly covert attacks, such as the present, as were made against him, was by the course Blake now purposed pursuing, prosecuting Galloway for libel. Mr. N. then congratulated the Bench on the spirit they had evinced in giving Blake a copy of Galloway's charges, and added that as Blake's case was not one of refusing a new application, but withholding from a man who had for years enjoyed a license, merely on an ex parte statement, most serious injury if not injustice would be done.

Mr. Eliott, P.M., said that Mr. Galloway had handed in an additional statement to his previous one from Thorne's brother and his servant, which was confirmatory of the first statement, and which was then read.

Mr. Nichols said, if he was instructed right, Mr. Thorne's brother, so far as intoxication was concerned, was tenfold worse than Mr. Thorne, and subsequently, in the course of the proceedings, on reading the bill against Thorne, a large number of nobblers appeared against the brother.

Mr. Eliott, P.M.: Mr. Galloway, he felt bound to state, did not act in a covert manner towards Blake when he preferred his statement; but expressed his willingness and readiness to prove all he had alleged.

Mr. Nichols: The only proof, supposing legal evidence could be taken, was Thorne himself being examined. On a particular Sunday, that Galloway in his charge accused Thorne of being drunk, and buying some wine of a Sydney wine merchant, the merchant alluded to had stated to him (Mr. N.) Thorne was perfectly sober, and he afterwards went to church.

Mr. Eliott, P.M.: When so serious a charge as that against Mr. Blake was brought before the Bench, cognizance must be taken of it.

Mr. Nichols: Doubtless, if it could be proved; but which could only be by the course about to be pursued, that of an action for libel.

Mr Eliott asked if there were any statements on behalf of Blake rebutting Galloway's charges as one of them, that Blake and Thorne were drunk together, was corroborated by their both being fined for such by the Police Court.

Mr. Nichols admitted such offences did occur. Blake and Thorne were old friends, and when after long absence they met they might enjoy themselves, but although it might be a deviation from the strict rules of propriety, he had known, and he said it with all deference to the Bench, gentlemen holding her Majesty's Commission of the Peace getting what is classically termed "rather implicated in liquor." (Loud laughter.) Mr. Nichols then handed some statements to the Bench, made on behalf of Blake, but added, as they might be libels, from long experience of the law in this matter in his (Mr. N.'s) early days, he declined reading them, preferring that the Bench, if Mr. Galloway, who was present, would consent to hear them, should be the publisher.

Mr. Galloway having consented, the statements were read, which were completely contradictory of the charges made by Mr. Galloway, and from one of which it appeared that on Thorne's brother going to the watch house to complain of Blake, he was so much intoxicated that he was, by the watchhouse-keeper confined, and mulcted by the Court on the ensuing morning.

After some immaterial observations and remarks from some of the magistrates, they retired from the Court, and on their return after about a quarter of an hour's absence, the Police Magistrate and the Bench had arrived at the conclusion that the application made by Blake for a license must be refused.

Hired Servants' Act.—A man named Barber appeared before the Police Court, on Saturday, at the instance of Mr. Beale, Superintendent to H. H. Macarthur, Esq., M.C., for disobedience of orders. In the course of the investigation of the case, and more particularly from Barber's defence, it was evident that something very like a manœuvre had been practised on him, and which he had either allowed himself most foolishly to fall into, or he had been a willing party in it, and which latter was the opinion of the Bench. It seemed that Barber was sent at an early hour of Thursday morning, to Sydney, with one hundred head of sheep, for the weekly sale on Friday, and although the flock of another party left Parramatta, at a much later time, he, Barber, did not reach Sydney until half-past two on the following day, when the weekly sale was over, and the sheep were on their arrival covered with mud. The consequence was, from the weekly sale being concluded, and the condition the sheep were in, they had to be disposed of at a considerable sacrifice, realizing 1s. 6d. per head less than those which had been sent at a later time from Parramatta, and which had arrived in Sydney in due time, and in proper condition. The defence set up was, there was continual rain while the defendant was on the road, and that the sheep strayed and some got lost, but notwithstanding which they would have been in Sydney in good time for the sale had not the defendant, when near the boundary stone, been met by a person who gave him a message purporting to be sent by Mr. Macarthur, jun., to the effect that he (Barber) need not hurry in with the sheep, as they could not be disposed of at that day's sale. The testimony, however, of Mr. Macarthur, jun., who was examined by the Court, was, that Barber had, on several previous occasions, driven sheep for sale to Sydney—that he had hitherto never been guilty of an offence like the present—and that positive instructions had been given him, and which he on the previous occasions strictly adhered to, that he was to obey no instructions which were not given him in writing, or personally by his employer, Mr. Beale, the superintendent, or a member of Mr. Macarthur's family. Barber was sentenced to be imprisoned in Parramatta gaol for fourteen days.

Sporting.—The spirited running which occurred at the Hack Races on Easter Monday, induced some few of the admirers of horse racing in the town, district, and its neighbourhood, to make an attempt to establish half-yearly, or more frequent races. On the proposition getting known, it was eagerly embraced, and the result has been the formation of "The Cumberland Turf Club," the rules and regulations of which are now fully matured, and which already numbers upwards of ninety subscribers. The first racing meeting will take place on the 16th June.

Court of Requests.—The sittings of the £30 Court concluded at a late hour on Friday afternoon. The professional gentlemen in attendance were Messrs. C. Bethel Lyons, Parry Long, and Lewthwaite. No legal point of public interest occurred throughout the sittings. The subjoined may, however, perhaps show the value of money in New South Wales.

Money Makes Money.—A person who it was stated was in very humble circumstances, was sued for £20, being the amount of a dishonoured promissory note. On the hearing of the case it appeared that the plaintiff, some fifteen years previously, had lent the defendant £26. The plaintiff, after receiving £42 on account of interest on it, and occasionally a £1 or so in diminution of the principal, "just to close the long standing transaction," as he expressed it, took the note for £20, constituting the present ground of action. It also incidentally came out, that being a very cautious man in his dealings, the plaintiff held the defendant's deed of grant of 150 acres of the most fertile land in the district, as a collateral security for the £26 advanced.

WINDSOR.

Caution to Hired Servants.—At the Police Office, on Tuesday last, John Watson, hired to Wm. Alderson, of Windsor, tanner, for three months from 30th January last, was brought up under warrant, charged with having, on the 19th instant, absconded from his master's service. It appeared that on Saturday evening last, he asked for a settlement, stating that he must go to Sydney; to this the complainant objected, urging as a reason that he had plenty of work for him, which must be executed; the defendant still persisted in saying he must go, when his master said—"If you must go, I cannot help it." This it seems the defendant took for a consent on the part of his master. Watson then went off and afterwards returned for his clothes, which were not denied him by Alderson, who was present when he took them. The Bench sentenced the prisoner to seven days' imprisonment in Parramatta Gaol, and ordered the agreement to be cancelled. The complainant appeared by Mr. Johnston, and the defendant by Mr. Lambton.

Flute Stealing.—John O'Donnell was brought before the bench on Saturday last, charged with having, at the last races, stolen a flute the property of one Henry Pacey. From the evidence it appeared that the complainant was employed to play the flute in Hamilton's booth, on the race-course; that having placed it on the stool on which he was sitting, an acquaintance of the name of Robinson came in and took it up, and played one tune; as soon as he had finished, the prisoner snatched the flute from his hand, and struck him a violent blow in the face. Upon being asked by Robinson why he had done so, the prisoner said it was his flute, and he had been looking out for it a long while. The prisoner produced the flute, which was identified by the complainant as the one he had bought from a Mr. Miller, who had previously proved having sold him one which he said he had bought at a broker's in Sydney. The magistrates committed the prisoner for trial, but allowed bail, himself in £40 and two sureties in £20 each.

The Convictions under the Distillation Act.—Mr. Lawson applied to the bench on Saturday, on behalf of Mr. Michael M'Quade, for copies of the convictions at the last Court and the Court previous, of Mr. M'Quade, for selling more than two gallons of spirits without having his name and place of residence registered, according to the Act. The Bench, after some warm arguments on both sides, granted the copies.

Licenses.—As the requisite number of magistrates were not present on the Bench on Tuesday last, the consideration of the publicans' licenses was postponed until Monday, the 26th instant.

The Weather.—Thursday and Friday last were both days of drenching rain, and we need scarcely say that nothing could have been more timely. The agriculturists were anxiously awaiting the much-needed visitation, and now that their hopes are realised, they have set to with vigour in the operations of the field.

MISCELLANEOUS EXTRACTS.

JOHN TILLOTSON AND JOHN SHARP.

"Our county, as the curious observe, is an epitome of the whole kingdom. There is in it every thing of the nature of greatness and excellence. And besides this, God hath been pleased to make it the birth place and nursery of many great men."—Dr. Hickes's Sermon at Bow Church, London, 1690, before the members of the Yorkshire Feast, (still kept up.)

It may not be generally known or noticed that the two archiepiscopal sees of the English Church were (temp. William and Mary) each filled at the same time by a Yorkshireman. Tillotson, Archbishop of Canterbury, was born at Waugh End, in the Parish of Halifax, in the house now occupied by Captain Priestley, who, on the writer's visiting the neighbourhood, (in 1833) in search of records of Tillotson, not only pointed out the room, but the very bedstead on which the primate was born. Sharp, Archbishop of York, was born at Bradford. These certainly eminent men were attached to each other by the ties of friendly regard, the amor patriæ, doubtless yielding its kindly ingredient to the common stock of mutual esteem. Very likely they were acquainted during boyhood, for they were reared up within seven miles of each other. The history of these men, taken together, is very extraordinary. There is something remarkable enough in the elevation of the former to the very summit of ecclesiastical greatness; but when we see in "his Grace of York" another instance and at the same time, of a rise from plebeian to mitred rank—two individuals too who were not only fellow countrymen, but neighbours—perhaps playfellows when boys, the fact is curious, and I should say, unexampled. Tillotson was the son of a poor clothier; Sharp of a shopkeeper. Their history up to a certain period is wonderfully similar. The father of Tillotson was a dissenter: so was the father of Sharp. The blind old clothier, after hearing his son one day preach, roundly declared "that he had done more harm than good." The father of Sharp opposed to his uttermost his wife's endeavours to have the boy nurtured in the Episcopal Church. She used to attend the lad with the Book of Common Prayer after he had gone to bed, so afraid was the good woman of her husband seeing the obnoxious book, and it may be added, so powerful is maternal influence, when it is set in deliberate array against that of the other parent. From Chalmers and others, but particularly Todd, (now Archdeacon of the East Riding of Yorkshire, and author of Todd's Johnson's Dictionary) it would appear that to these assiduities on the part of his mother, Sharp originally owed his ecclesiastical bias. Not to say that his father was irreligious. He was indeed a very enthusiast in that way. This man had in the former part of his life served under the commonwealth in the army, and was in all likelihood one of Cromwell's military saints. The Book of Common Prayer would, therefore, be to the holy shopkeeper an abomination of that sturdy character as was the "Scarlet Hune" of Rome herself to that species of religious individuals represented in Scott's Andrew Fairservice. This popular hatred of the established liturgy was a legacy left to the nation by the brilliant but monomaniac Laud, the Puseyite of the then day, and those good people of that name at this time are labouring hard, perhaps not at, but certainly to the same result. They are eschewing "the wisdom of the Church of England to keep the mean between two extremes, &c., &c." If an extreme be unwise in any thing—an extreme for nothing but form must be the very essence of silliness itself.

There is a curious story about young Sharp's testimony, and peeping through a chink in the wall of his father's sleeping-room. Here the shopkeeper was wont to give vent to certain extravagancies of manner and expression in his devotions which, it is said at once terrified and disgusted the lad. And yet the son of this enthusiast sat on the throne of St. Peter at York—was its lawful and consecrated occupant, and one of Her Majesty's (Anne's) most honourable Privy Council! The "hole in the wall" and this peeping and listening were thus the fortune of the future prelate, for it is said, he thenceforth determined he would never be a dissenter.

These illustrious men it thus appears had both alike early to contend with the influences of parental example and authority. Each had too in the early part of his clerical career, to contend with the caprices and intrigues of a court ostensibly Protestant, in reality Roman Catholic. (Charles II.) Both stood boldly forward at this nice period, not affording the unseemly display of gowned gladiators fishing for preferment; but the fine spectacle of men, with calm and dignified earnestness contending for the truth. They were promoted nearly at the same time, and by the same Sovereign (William III.), and each from a Deanery to an Archbishopric. The Halifax boy became the Primate of all England, and the Bradford boy Primate of England. Lastly, in reference to the point of resemblance, they were considered among the most eminent writers and divines of the period, and this is eminently true in regard to Tillotson, whose writings are to this day, not only the very gem of a clergyman's library, but which should ever be treasured by all who have a relish for a style at once simple, yet majestic—calm, yet acting upon the reader with a force absolutely overwhelming. A sermon of Tillotson's was an exact—full—complete performance. Specimens of this writer were eagerly and amply quoted in the Spectator and Guardian the soundest things of the kind even now (I know what I hazard by this assertion) in the English language. There was "plenty of weft" in a discourse of Tillotson's, as his father the clothier might say. They were not made up of lugubrious whines—interjections—frosty nothings, and a parade of verbiage, ingredients now in use for these compositions, and which are indeed become indispensable to a system by which religion is administered shortly to speak, with a howl, and received with a groan. Emptiness has become the excellence of a preacher for the same reason, that it is the excellence of a drum. A noise must be made.

Authority and Tillotson agreed very well together, much better indeed than it suited popular opinion, which for some cause or other was all along, after his advancement to the Primacy, furiously opposed to this, certainly the most tolerant man who had hitherto been invested with ecclesiastical power in England. Here all resemblance in the history of the two ceases; for authority aimed at the very annihilation, so to say, of Sharp. He had the misfortune or good luck as it might be said, to have among his auditors while preaching one day at the Chapel Royal, James II. himself. The eloquence with which the honest preacher assailed the Papal Church, James took to himself, and from that moment the monarch "eyed" the intrepid expounder with about the same affectionate interest with which Saul rewarded the assiduity of the "sweet singer of Israel," when he "played with his hand before the king." There was this difference indeed in the two cases. James looked for another to fix the preacher against the wall, and he hit upon the Bishop of London (Compton) for this piece of javelin service; in other words, he ordered the Bishop to suspend Sharp.

His Majesty, however, to his utter amazement, found that he had 'caught a Tartar' in the respectful, but resolute Prelate. The Bishop would do no such thing. Public interest now rose at the very rare spectacle of an open quarrel between such ancient and boon friends as the crown and mitre. Sharp was not an obscure person at this time. He was Dean of Norwich, and one of the Chaplains Royal. Now, however, fell upon him all at once the reputation of a Martyr. To 'humble' the Bishop, as well as to punish Sharp was now the pride of King James, and this was 'pride that walked before his destruction,' for this simple circumstance was made the very momentum of those grave and mighty historical events—the abdication of James, and shortly afterwards the Revolution itself. How little would the plodding fanatic, the Bradford shopkeeper imagine that a son of his should ever exercise an influence like this! That Sharp had become an object of popular solicitude as well as royal notice (under the successor of James) is evident from a passage in the valuable Diary of Thoresby, the antiquary, (found a few years ago among some rubbish in an attic in London, who, on his notice of Sharp's elevation to the See of York, states that "it was to the unspeakable joy of the whole nation."—Gleanings of Illustrious Yorkshiremen, by Benjamin Livesey.

The Passengers Traffic on the Railways having a Terminus in London.—The railways from London to various parts of the country, being now in full operation, the following brief notice of the number of passenger trains daily leaving London by the several lines will be read with interest. The Great Western.—On this line of railway 19 trains start from the Paddington terminus, of this number 11 go through Exeter, 5 not further than Bristol, 13 to Oxford, including one which starts from the Didcot Junction, 10 to Gloucester, 2 only as far as Reading, 3 to Maidenhead, and 2 to Slough. On Sundays the number is reduced to 9, 5 of which convey passengers through to Exeter, and the same number to Oxford and Gloucester, 2 only as far as Slough, 1 to Maidenhead, and 1 to Reading. The North Western (late London and Birmingham.)—North and south branches start at twenty-two trains daily from the Euston station; of these 1 takes passengers through to Carlisle by means of the Midland and North of England Railways, 3 to Durham, 3 to Shields, 5 to Newcastle, 7 to York, 8 to Leeds, 4 to Derby, by Birmingham, and 8 by Rugby; 7 to Manchester, 8 to Liverpool and Chester, 4 to Lancaster, 3 only as far as Birmingham, 6 to Northampton and Peterborough, 4 not further than Rugby, 2 to Aylesbury, 1 to Tring, 1 to Bletchworth, 1 to Watford, and 7 to Leamington and Warwick. On Sunday the number leaving London is reduced to 7. The London and Brighton—Conveys passengers daily by 10 trains, of which 8 go through to Chichester, 1 not further than Brighton, and 1 stops at Lewes. On Sundays only 4 trains are started. The Eastern Counties (Cambridge line.)—To the various places on this line no fewer than 22 trains are started daily from the Shoreditch station. Five of the number convey passengers through to Norwich and Yarmouth, 1 to Brandon, 2 not further than Ely, 1 to Cambridge, 1 to Wendon, 8 to Hertford, 1 to Broxbourne, and 3 not further than Waltham. On Sundays 10 trains are started. The Eastern Counties (Colchester line.)—On this branch of the Eastern Counties 9 trains start daily, 6 go through to Ipswich, 1 not further than Colchester, and 2 to Brentwood. On Sunday the number is reduced to 6, 3 of which go the full distance, 1 to Chelmsford, and 2 to Brentwood. The South Western.—On this line 18 trains leave the Nine Elms station, 11 proceeding through to Southampton and Gosport, and 7 to Guildford. On Sundays the numbers is reduced to one-half, 5 of which go the whole distance. The South Eastern.—There are 10 trains started on this line from the London-bridge and Bricklayer's Arms stations daily, through to Dover, but conveying passengers for all the branch lines. On Sundays the number is reduced to 6. The Richmond Railway. On this railway 17 trains run daily, and on Sundays the number is limited to 13. On the Croydon and Greenwich Railways the trains run every hour (with 4 extra trains on the former) and every quarter of an hour.

BIRTH.

At Keswycke, Gunning, on the 18th instant, Mrs. T. B. Carne, of the Edward River, of a daughter.

MARRIED.

At George Town, Van Diemen's Land, on Saturday, the 27th March, by the Rev. Mr. Ferreday, John Mira (a native of the island of Otaheite), to Betsey Miti (an aboriginal native of Van Diemen's Land.) Also, James Williams (an aboriginal), to Victoria Leonard, (also a native of Van Diemen's Land.) The parties left Flinder's Island in an open boat for George Town—a distance of 80 miles, in order that the marriage ceremony might be performed by a duly qualified clergyman.—Melbourne Argus.

DEATHS.

On Saturday, the 24th instant, Helen Eliza, the wife of Thomas M. P. Wilshire, in the 23rd year of her age.

At Woolloomooloo, on the 24th instant, Dorothea Josephine Jessie, the beloved daughter of Mr. A. W. Dumas, aged sixteen months.

TO LEASE.

THE Estate at Mamri, late the property of Charles Marsden, Esq., situated within four miles of Penrith, and sixteen from Parramatta. It contains upwards of one thousand acres of good land well watered. Also, an excellent orchard, and comfortable dwelling in good repair, and lately the residence of John Panton, Esq., M.C.

Application to be made to the undersigned.

R. FITZGERALD,
6664 Windsor.

TO LET,

THE ESTATE OF CLARMONT containing 2000 acres of land, with first-rate residence and outhouses, at present occupied by R. V. Dulhunty, Esq., J.P.

Possession to be given on 1st June.

Written applications (post-paid) will be received until 10th May next, by

COOPER AND HOLT,
5564 Waterloo Warehouse.

CAPITAL DAIRY FARM.

TO BE LET, for 3, 5, or 7 years, between 4000 and 5000 acres of LAND at the head of the swamp at Hexham, comprising about 2500 acres of the swamp, and the remainder consisting of uplands adjacent. There has been lately erected on this land a capital dairy, milking pens, and two good huts, besides pigsties, and other conveniences for carrying on a dairy on a large scale. Several miles of a substantial three-rail fence have been put up, and there is stuff enough split to complete some miles more, which the tenant will be allowed to use in fencing the outer boundary, and the cost deducted from the rent. The tenant will also be allowed out of the rent the cost of erecting a substantial dam to hold water at all seasons. Apply, personally, or by letter, to the undersigned, at Vaucluse.

6744 W. C. WENTWORTH.

TO BE SOLD OR LET,

THE TWO UNDERMENTIONED ESTATES FORMERLY PROPERTIES OF MR. W. KLENSENDORLFFE.

FIRST.

TWO THOUSAND Five Hundred and Sixty Acres of Land at Limestone Plains, near Queanbeyan; and described in the Grant as—

"2560 acres of land in the county of Murray, bounded on the east by a line south 354 chains, commencing at the north-west corner of R. Campbell's 1060 acres; on the south by a line west 80 chains; on the west by a line north, 330 chains; and on the north by the Molonglo River, to the north-west corner of R. Campbell's 1060 acres, as aforesaid."

To graziers having squatting stations in the Maneroo and surrounding country, this property would be invaluable as a homestead, having a large stone house thereon, fitted up with every convenience for the residence of a respectable family, with detached kitchen, stable, and out offices, four acres of garden and orchard, with abundance of fruit trees; this and 150 acres of alluvial soil under cultivation, and capable of producing abundant crops, is well fenced in, as are also several paddocks, stockyards, &c.

Attached thereto is an extensive run for a few thousand sheep. Messrs. Campbell, Murray, and other gentlemen of known influence and responsibility, occupy its immediate neighbourhood, and it is in the direct route from the Maneroo districts.

SECOND.

Nine hundred and twenty acres of land at the Point Farm, near Liverpool, in the parish of Minto, described as—

"920 acres of land, commencing at the junction of Bunbury Curran Creek with George's River, and bounded on the east by that river, to the north-east corner of the Redfern estate; on the south by a line dividing it from the said estate and running from the aforesaid river to Bunbury Curran Creek; on the west by the said creek to the corner of Macquarie Field estate, and by the said estate to Bunbury Curran Creek, and by that creek to George's River."

On one part of this farm is a substantial stone cottage with flagged verandah, entrance hall, and contains—

Six rooms	Store-room 52 x 46 ft.
A stone built dairy	Men's residence
A ditto kitchen	Coach house
A logged barn	Stock yards
Milking sheds, and	Out-offices.

The whole being adapted for the reception of any family, having seventy acres cleared, and divided into small paddocks; with an orchard and garden.

On the other part of this farm is an excellent weather-boarded cottage, containing—

Four rooms	A detached kitchen
A stable	A barn
Stockyards	Pig-sties
Out offices, and	An enclosed garden of half an acre, with 120 acres cleared and cultivated.

As every part of these lands is well watered by the river and the creek, it may be let to small settlers with considerable advantage to the purchaser.

The whole of these properties having been known for many years, any further description of them would be superfluous.

The terms will be liberal, and Sydney property taken in exchange.

Any other particulars can be known on application to George Allen, Esq., Solicitor, Elizabeth-street; or to the proprietor,

P. W. PLOMER,
480 36, Castlereagh-street, Sydney.

SPLENDID ESTATE AND RESIDENCE WAUCHOPE.

KING'S RIVER, COUNTY MACQUARIE.

MR. EDWARD SALAMON has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Room, George-street,
THIS DAY, 27TH APRIL,
At twelve o'clock,

If not previously disposed of by private sale,

All that splendid and highly valuable estate, known as situated on the west bank of King's River (a branch of the Hastings) navigable to

WAUCHOPE,

PORT MACQUARIE,

from which it is distant only thirteen miles. It consists of seventeen hundred and ninety seven acres, for the most part excellent soil, of which seventy to eighty acres have been cleared, and several large paddocks fenced in.

The road from Port Macquarie to runs through the estate, thereby materially increasing its value, and rendering the residence a most desirable homestead for settlers, connected with that important district.

THE HOUSE AND OFFICES, which are replete with every convenience and comfort, and which have been erected at considerable cost consist of

A dining hall, 28 feet by 25, with French windows and Venetian blinds
A drawing room 23 feet by 18, with French windows and Venetian blinds
Five commodious bedrooms
General smaller apartments
An excellent kitchen, with oven, &c.
Large cellar, salting, and store room
Large store 27 x 12, divided into two compartments, communicating with each other.

The whole of which is shaded by verandahs and perfectly enclosed.

THE GARDEN AND ORCHARD, which occupies between three and four acres of land, are most tastefully laid out, and the latter plentifully stocked with most choice fruit trees and vines, all in full bearing.

There is also a substantial stock and milking yard near the house, and another stockyard within a large paddock, near the New England Road, for mustering cattle, with stockman's hut adjoining, and with two rooms at the entrance gate.

It would indeed exceed the limits of an advertisement to point out the many advantages possessed by this fine property—suffice it to say, that neither outlay nor taste has been wanting to render it one of the most complete and delightful establishments in the northern districts. The Auctioneer, therefore invites the attention of capitalists requiring either a favourable means of investment, or a commodious and gentlemanly country residence.

The proprietor, who is resident on the estate, will be happy to show intending purchasers the property; and the plan may be seen and further information be obtained on application to the Office of the Auctioneer.

Title:
PURCHASE FROM THE CROWN.

STEAM FLOUR MILL FOR SALE,

AT THE PATERSON TOWNSHIP, BEING A SURE FORTUNE FOR THE PURCHASER.

MR. R. FAWCETT begs to inform the Millers, Settlers, and Capitalists generally of the Hunter River district, that he has been instructed by the proprietor, Mr. J. R. Houlding, to submit to public competition, at his Sale Room, 481, George-street, Sydney, on

WEDNESDAY, 28TH APRIL,
At twelve o'clock precisely,

THE PATERSON STEAM FLOUR MILL, consisting of twelve-horse power steam-engine, with all the latest improvements; two pair stones, dressing and smutting machines, with all the necessary apparatus quite complete, and now in full trade.

The whole of this valuable machinery is quite new, having been purchased in London only a few months since, by a practical man, and pronounced by competent judges to be of the very best description.

The premises on which the machinery stands are held on a ten years lease, at thirty-two pounds per annum, with the option to purchase at any period in the lease, for the sum of four hundred pounds, and consist of an acre of excellent land, more or less, situate in the centre of this flourishing township, on which is erected a capacious mill capable of holding from ten to fifteen thousand bushels of grain.

A comfortable dwelling-house, containing five rooms, a large cellar, kitchen, servants' room, &c., &c.

ALSO,

Stables and out-houses detached, on the bank of the river, and having the right of the wharf.

To persons acquainted with this fertile, thriving, and rapidly improving district, any remarks of the auctioneer would be superfluous, and the only reason the proprietor is disposing of the property is, because he is unable from press of other business to give it his personal superintendence.

Terms liberal, at time of sale. 6391
